Urban Park in Republic Square in Catania

The Urban Park Redevelopment Project in Catania aims at transforming an area of approximately 35,000 square metres in the San Berillo district, located near the historical city centre. This public space represents an opportunity to involve citizens and make them aware of the changing social context. The urban redevelopment has the main objective of enhancing the area, making it accessible and usable again for both citizens and visitors. This project is an important step towards enhancing the urban heritage and creating inclusive spaces for the city of Catania.
